The third case of travel-related COVID-19 has been identified in Ward County. The affected individual is a man in his 50s. Currently an epidemiologist from the North Dakota Department of Health is interviewing the individual in order to gather further information. You will be contacted by the North Dakota Department of Health or First District Health Unit if you are considered a contact of this person. Everyone should continue to practice good hygiene and social distancing. More information will be shared as it becomes available.
